Pets of the Week

My name is Davis and I am a neutered male Blue Heeler. I am not sure whether I like men, but I do like the females. I do not like it when joggers run past my house or when on a walk, so maybe a home in the country would be best for me. I do not like kids much and seem indifferent to cats. I do get along with some dogs.

All 'Pet of the Week' listings are available for adoption at the Battle Mountain Humane Society.

Dylan Lewis - A Music Man

By Blair Foley

Tucked in the crags of Lead, Dylan Lewis has built a life in music. He is the son of a gold miner, a graduate of South Dakota School of Mines, a father of two, an educator, a multi-instrumentalist bandleader and a man of many musics. From his early days studying the bluegrass stylings of Doc Watson to his modern fondness for the flurried gypsy style of Django Reinhardt, if it has strings, Dylan can probably play it.

One would be hard pressed to find a stage in South Dakota that Mr. Lewis hasn't played at some point over the last decade. His distinctive flatpicking style has landed him alongside many powerhouse midwestern acoustic groups, and plenty of local favorites such as Jalan Crossland, Jami Lynn, Randy McAllister and Alex Massa.

In 2017, Dylan became

one half of the folk/bluegrass duo Humbletown, alongside his wife and partner, Morgan Carnes. With a shared love of Appalachian folk songs and bluegrass melodies, these two have spent the last five years fusing their luminous songwriting talents into a homegrown sound that reflects the lush small town life they share. In Dec 2022, Humbletown released their long awaited debut album "The Path I Choose To Walk" - an energetic collection of original songs which they will be touring across the country this summer, and yes, the kids (1 and 3 years old) are coming with them!

If you're a fan of down-home real-deal pickin' and singin' then get yourself to The Custer Beacon and catch Humbletown live March 25 at 7 p.m. If brunch is more your thing, then head to Aby's Rapid City Sunday, March 26, at noon to hear Dylan guitar stylings with his gypsy jazz project: Porch Swing. Either way, you're in for a treat.
